

Bike Provo

500 N Buffered Bike Lane Extension Report -- Austin Taylor

- Public meeting held on Tuesday
- 88% support with 34 attending, but one neighborhood chair has a lot of hesitation due to loss of parking spots. 3 out of 4 neighborhood chairs in the area support it.
- One issue is two large homes on the SW corner of 500 N and 100 E who park on the street (neighborhood chairs saying that is a pinch point)
- Austin has been talking to the library board about renting out parking spots during the evening
- They will be making a crosswalk no matter what on the west part of the intersection (500 N 100 E)

200 E and 800 E sign placement event (Jan 26) -- Mary Wade

- January 26th (Saturday) 10 AM

Tactical urbanism funding -- Austin Taylor

- Have asked the mayor for 4% of the transportation budget, but Gary McGinn thinks that we should ask for money for tactical urbanism to show the engineers what can be done
- Tactical urbanism has shown to be a good way to work with Public Works and educates the public in a visual way

Transportation Master Plan @ TMAC (Tuesday, Jan 15, 12:30) Aaron Skabelund

- Met with mayor last month to ask for tactical urbanism
- Push for an adoption on a complete streets policy
- Gary suggested that we focus on the Transportation Master Plan
- Tuesday Jan 15th, 12:30 PM meeting in the community development meeting room
 - Parking
 - Diverting traffic from Center Street to 100 N
 - Transportation Master Plan

Goathead elimination project coordinator?

- Parks has signed off with an event to eliminate goatheads
- Boise does a big event where they eliminate goatheads

BikeProvo Non-Profit Application Progress Update, Rob Slater

- Application is being reviewed by some people at BYU law school

Parks department

- Continuing to work on the Provo river trail
- Working on a bike elements park in Slate Canyon
 - Going to be forming a committee for feedback
 - Hoping to finish by December

Critical Mass -- Austin Taylor

- Thinking of biking around the town after the meetings
- Start up Monday Night Night rides again

Be sure to sign up to attend the Utah Bike Summit, Tuesday, March 5 th

Challenge: Create content for BikeProvo.com

- It doesn't have to be very long and can be done with just a photo and some comments

Next meeting: February 7 at 5 pm: Bike Month planning and more